Bar Harbor, Me., Oct. 24 (AP)—After a flaming night of horror, fabled Bar Harbor was a stricken, almost deserted town today.

Three thousand, five hundred townsfolk had fled, by land or sea; 200 to 300 of their homes and the summer estates of some of America's wealthiest families were smoking ruins.

A raging forest fire that touched off the holocaust spread across Mount Desert island, menacing other communities. Shifting or stronger winds might wreak new havoc at Bar Harbor.

"All we've done is stop the fire in the town," said Selectman Seth Libby. "A little more wind would raise a lot of trouble."

Nine Known Dead

Nine known deaths attributable to the flames were reported by authorities. Unconfirmed reports said three more lives were lost in a boat collision during the evacuation.

Police Chief George C. Abbott reported the assessed value of the lost homes at $8,000,000—exclusive of furnishings. He wouldn't hazard an estimate of their worth.

Most of the evacuees, conveyed by Air Force troops through a flame-lined, single road to the mainland, were sheltered at Ellsworth.

There they told of a "terrifying" descent of flames that descended on their homes—"like a big furnace around us," said Mrs. Andrew Walls, 49.

Navy, Coast Guard Help

Mrs. Walls, after hours of waiting on a chilly, wind-swept pier, was one of hundreds evacuated in lobster boats, pleasure craft and Coast Guard vessels in a Dunkerque-like exodus.

Despite the fearful experiences of the evacuees, "there was no panic," Abbott said.

Two-thirds of the refugees made their escape in the afternoon, before the flames reached the road.

For three hours the island was cut off. In the belief that a mass evacuation by sea would be necessary, the Navy and Coast Guard sent 10 ocean-going craft speeding to the port.

Estimates of the property loss in Maine alone stood at around $5,000,000 before the flames entered the seaside spot. Unofficial estimates now range up to $15,000,000 and state officials said the fire loss probably would exceed the $25,000,000 figure set by the hurricane and floods of 1938.

Business Section Escapes

Hundreds of firemen, coast guardsmen and Army Air Force men from Dow Field in Bangor, continue to battle dwelling house fires.

The business section, with the aid of army demolition squads who planted dynamite charges, escaped virtually unscathed.

Chief Abbott listed as destroyed the homes of Mary Roberts Rinehart, the novelist, sister of Mrs. J. L. Barton, formerly of Gettysburg, Walter Damosroski, the concert conductor, A. Atwater Kent, radio manufacturer; B. F. Goodrich, rubber manufacturer, and the late Henry Morganthau, Sr. The fate of the Rockefeller and Ford estates was not known.

Cancer Lab. Burned

The internationally known Jackson Memorial Laboratory for Cancer research was razed.

Shortly after the Bar Harbor blaze was proclaimed as under control, selectmen at Southwest Harbor announced that Northwest (Please turn to page 7)

MISS PARRISH PLEASURES CROWD IN BRUA CHAPEL

Miss Dorothy Parrish, distinguished young American pianist, captivated her audience at Brua chapel Thursday evening with her skilled presentation of nearly two hours of the compositions of the masters without use of any musical score throughout the evening.

The audience showed their delight with Miss Parrish's performance with rounds of applause between sections of her program, sometimes interrupting between numbers to applaud the charming young artist.

Miss Parrish graciously responded to prolonged applause at the conclusion of the programmed concert by giving three encore numbers.

Played With Ease, Expression

Speaking briefly to the audience about each group of numbers before taking her place at the Steinway grand, Miss Parrish paid special tribute to the influence of the late Bela Bartok, Hungarian composer under whom she studied in this country and abroad, upon twentieth century music. She rated him as currently having the greatest influence upon modern music among the most influential trio of modern composers.

The artist, who is a wife and mother and soon will begin a fall and winter concert tour of the south, gave abundant proof to her audience of her right to her reputation as a skilled pianist with an exceptional touch and ease of execution of even the most difficult numbers. Her technical skill was enhanced by the expression and feeling she imparted to every section of her varied classical program.

A group of sonatas by Scarlatti and Beethoven opened the concert. Two Scarlatti compositions were followed by Beethoven's Sonata, Op. 81a, an involved and varied work divided into three sections, "The Farewell, The Absence and The Return."

Section on Bartok

The hunters of this county who had licenses last year are being urged to sign the petition, copies of which are at Zerling's hardware store, Renner Brothers' hardware store and Banker's restaurant before November 5. VETS GIVEN WAR MEDALS

Three Adams county reserve officers, whose combined war service total is 14 years, were presented with World War II and American defense medals this morning in a ceremony held in the ROTC office at Gettysburg college.

Col. Alfred E. McKenney, professor of Military Science and Tactics at the college, made the presentations to Col. Edward J. Nowicki, Jr., Reservoir street, a World War II infantry officer in the Asiatic theater; Capt. Clarence Seaman Biglerville, a former quartermaster officer in the ETO and Capt. Donald Lady, Biglerville, former 3-17 pilot in the ETO.

Stating the hope that "none of us will ever be called upon to participate in a World War III," Col. McKenney pointed out that the World War II ribbon atop the medal is similar to the World War I ribbon with the addition of a scarlet band. In a brief presentation speech he pointed out that "No one not a member of the regular army can appreciate the feeling of appreciation on the part of regular army officers and men toward the valor and bravery of the citizens who leave their civilian occupations and enter the army to defend their country in time of war. The regular army is very small. During the war the bulk of the danger falls to the civilians, for it is the civilian populations that must wage the war."

This afternoon three veterans who reported to the post office here were presented with medals by the local recruiting sergeant. The three receiving medals at the post office were James D. Rang, Littlestown R. 2, and Herbert G. Raab, Gettysburg R. 3, who received the World War II medal, and John B. Kandlehart, 454 West Middle street, who received both the American defense and World War II medals.

"ROBIN HOOD" WELL RECEIVED HERE THURSDAY

Approximately 1,000 youngsters and adults jammed the Majestic theater Thursday afternoon for the performance of "Robin Hood" presented by the Clare Tree Major Children's theater under sponsorship of the Woman's Club of Gettysburg.

The antics of Robin Hood, Little John, Friar Tuck and the other characters of the Clare Tree Major version of the famous English folk tales seemed to please the group.

Members of the cast included many who took part in last year's production of "Hans Brinker" presented here. The Sheriff of Nottingham and the Abbot of Emmet Priory were sufficiently villainous and the members of Robin's jolly crew played their parts well.

Bickle, Miss Ruth Koser, Mrs. W. D. Hartschorn, Mrs. Dunning Idle, Sr., Mrs. Catherine Herter, Mrs. Howard Hartzell, Mrs. B. W. Redding, Mrs. E. F. Strausbaugh, Mrs. F. K. Schwartz, Mrs. D. C. CARDINAL DIES AFTER SPECIAL POPE BLESSING

Rome, Oct. 24 (P)—Carlo Cardinal Salotti, 77, prefect of the Congregation of Rites, died today. He had been gravely ill for some time and received the last sacraments and a special blessing from Pope Pius XII last Saturday. He had been a prince of the church since 1935.

His death reduces the college of Cardinals to 62 members.

Cardinal Salotti, regarded as one of the most brilliant princes of the Catholic Church, bore at one time one of its strangest titles—the devil's advocate.

Highly Regarded

The curious designation was his by virtue of the office of promoter of the faith, which he once occupied. As such he had the duty of presenting before the Congregation of Rites every conceivable canonization against a contemplated canonization to assure that no unworthy candidate be enrolled in the calendar of the saints.

He had equal claim to the title of "saint maker," having occupied also during his 30 years of service with the congregation the office of advocate of the saints and consistorial advocate. As such, he promoted more than 100 causes for canonization, including that of Joan of Arc in 1920.

His colleagues described him as possessing one of the ablest intellects in the Catholic hierarchy. He was reputed for his ability to turn a happy or incisive phrase. He held degrees in both canon and civil law, theology and literature.

CHILE ORDERS 360 ARRESTS

Santiago, Chile, Oct. 24 (P)—Chilean authorities—declare there is an organized Communist plot to wreck the national economy—today ordered the arrest of 360 strike leaders in the vital copper region where miners from the Sewell pits have joined a spreading walkout.

In another counter move the government dispatched troops last night to occupy two struck nitrate plants and ordered military control tightened throughout the four nitrate and copper producing provinces which have been proclaimed emergency zones.

The Sewell pits—under control of the Braden Copper company—employ some 8,000 miners and comprise eight mining camps.

The newspaper Diaro Ilustrano reported yesterday that the establishment of emergency zones had been proclaimed after the government learned that the Communist-ordered slow-down at the Chiqui-camata mine of the Anaconda Copper company had lowered weekly production from 80,000 tons to 60,000.

The newspaper added that the last 200 of the striking miners who tried to close down the southern coal fields, had become hungry and abandoned their sit-down vigil. Earlier troops drove 2,000 strikers from one mine and 300 of the leaders now await court martial.

COAL SUPPLY IS ABOVE NORMAL

Washington, Oct. 24 (P)—The Bureau of Mines said today the nation has a 37-day soft coal supply above ground.

The stocks total 47,157,000 tons, slightly more than normal for this time of year.

The report supported a finding by a 15-man committee of coal producers, dealers, miners and consumers yesterday that there is no present indication of a soft coal shortage this winter, although there may be a lack of the better grades in some localities.

The bureau estimated that the United States will produce altogether, 597,000,000 tons of soft coal and lignite for the year ending next March 31, and will consume only 540,000,000 tons.

Tom Hunter, the bureau's chief of coal economics, said shipments to Canada will total 23,000,000 tons, leaving 34,400,000 tons available for overseas export, of which 25,200,000 already have been sent.

"There are several factors that can improve the export outlook," said Hunter. "If the car supply improves, production will be bettered correspondingly."

Mayor Race Called 'Hocus-Pocus' By Duff

Harrisburg, Oct. 24 (P)—A Democratic maneuver to elect a defeated Republican candidate as mayor of Harrisburg today bore a gubernatorial label as "political hocus-pocus."

In his first full-blown political speech since before the primary election in May, Gov. James H. Duff referred to the appointment by the Democratic city committee of John E. Peters as the Democratic nominee for mayor after Dr. J. Ellwood Hummel withdrew.

Peters, campaigning as an Independent Republican and drawing a surprisingly large vote, was defeated for the GOP nomination by organization-backed Claude R. Robins.

"It was a case of political hocus-pocus and I don't care if anybody likes that observation—it's a fact," Duff told 2,000 persons attending a Dauphin county Republican rally here last night.

The governor also asserted he was "tremendously interested" in the outcome of the local mayoralty race which has been attracting statewide attention.

Warns Of Increase In Building Costs

Harrisburg, Oct. 24 (P)—The Pennsylvania Real Estate association declared today that the cost of new homes will "skyrocket" if the federal government undertakes housing projects.

"Nearly all building materials being produced today are going into residential construction," said Stanley A. Gillespie, of Greenville, association president, explaining that: "Any extensive public housing program by the federal government will take away materials from private builders and definitely will increase the cost of homes because the government will be a competitor in the market for labor and materials."

Gillespie added that "because the government does not have to worry about costs, it can bid prices to a point where they will become prohibitive. As a result, private building will be reduced and the housing shortage will become more acute."

and called her back several times to acknowledge the tribute to her skill from the audience.

Known as a "Bartok specialist," Miss Parrish devoted one section of her program to a collection of brief numbers by that composer. First were three Hungarian folk tunes, "Pentatonic Tune," "My White Nightflower" and "Tune from Tolna" and then "Musie of the Night" in which Miss Parrish told the audience Bartok made his nearest approach to impressionism.

Three pieces from Bartok's "Mikrokosmos," each increasing in complexity and requiring high degrees of technical skill, completed that section. They were "Bulgarian Rhythm," "From the Diary of a Fly," and "Ostinato."

Changing her announced program, Miss Parrish opened the group of final Chopin numbers with "Nocturne in F Sharp Minor," followed with two tuneful études and concluded with the "Grand Valse in A Flat," judged by some of her hearers as the most enjoyable of the entire concert.

Her encores were "Clair de Lune" by Debussy; "Liebestraum" and a gavotte, "The B Minor Partita" by Bach.

After the concert Miss Parrish was the guest of honor at a small reception at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth L. Smoke, North Washington street. Dr. and Mrs. Smoke and Miss Kathryn Oller were hosts to a group of 30 friends from Waynesboro and Huntingdon and local residents. Miss Oller and Mrs. Smoke are personal friends of Miss Parrish, who left this morning for New York city.

Miss Parrish appeared here under the auspices of the Gettysburg College Women's League. The concert was given for the benefit of the music department at the college.

Colorado School Kids Get Last Laugh; Teachers Flunk

Denver, Oct. 24 (P)—Colorado school kids had the last laugh today—their teachers averaged a failing, 67 on a test in American History.

The quiz wasn't particularly rough. There were little matters such as which side did the Tories favor in the American Revolution? Who assassinated Lincoln? And what do we call the first 10 amendments to the U. S. Constitution?

Approximately 100 teachers were picked for the quiz at random from some 6,000 in town for the Colorado Education association convention, and assured their identities would be kept a deep, dark secret.

The 25 questions were lifted from a standard text used by Denver public schools, and tossed every day at pupils.

But grades ranged as low as 20 out of a possible 100, or only five correct answers. And boners were pulled that would make a lad sitting under a dunce cap burst with pride at his own knowledge.

GHS RESERVES NIP WAYNESBORO FOR THIRD WIN

Gettysburg high school's junior varsity chalked up its third straight victory to remain unbeaten Thursday afternoon by outclassing the Waynesboro high reserves 20-0 on the local field.

After a scoreless first period the Maroons scored in the second period when Kenny Biesecker scampered 20 yards for a touchdown. Billy Bushman passed to Sachs for the extra point.

Late in the third quarter the Maroons marched downfield to the enemy's 25-yard line from where Biesecker raced over for his second tally. The try for the point failed.

Midway in the final period Bushman whipped a 20-yard pass to Bobby Sachs on the two from where he scored. Bushman added the point on a dropkick.

Jack Shainline's lads completely outplayed their opponents from start to finish, rolling up eight first downs while yielding but one. The Maroons completed one of two passes while Waynesboro failed in all four of its tries.

Biesecker, Sachs and Neibler put up nice games for the locals.

The victory marked the third in a row for Gettysburg after a 7-7 tie with Westminster. Next Thursday evening Coach Shainline will take his squad to Carlisle to battle the Carlisle high reserves.

CANNERS DRUB QUINCY ELEVEN BY 27-6 SCORE

Scoring a single touchdown in each period, the Biglerville high school football team snapped a three-game losing streak by easily defeating Quincy Orphanage 27-6 Thursday night on the Biglerville field before approximately 1,000 fans.

After taking the following on Quincy's 43-yard on an exchange of punts, the Canners reeled off three straight first downs in the first period to reach the visitors' 5 from where Clark Heller went through the right side of the line to tally.

Jim Pitzer's smashing line thrusts featured the drive. Pitzer missed the placement for the extra point, later booting three in a row.

A pass interception by Marty Heller on the Quincy 25-yard line midway in the second quarter set the stage for the Biglerville second score. After reeling off a first down on the 8, Jim Pitzer pounded through from the five for the score and then added the extra point on a placement.

Heller Scores
Another sustained drive by Biglerville late in the third period produced a touchdown, Marty Heller circling left end from the eighty-yard stripe to hit pay dirt. Pitzer's placement again split the uprights.

Coach Haas' lads scored again in the fourth period when Pitzer crashed through right tackle from the nine-yard line. Again he added the point on a placement.

Quincy, taking advantage of the presence of a number of Biglerville subs, struck back in the dying minutes of the contest to register its lone score. With the ball on the 32-yard line of the Canners a Quincy 27-yard pass to Mease on the five produced the score. The try for the point failed.

Biglerville's line gave one of its most impressive performances as it broke through time and again to spill the Quincy ball carriers for substantial losses. Pitzer, a lineman on the defense, the Heller brothers, Weaver and Grim were consistent ground gainers.

Biglerville made 13 first downs to four for Quincy. The Canners failed in all four of their pass attempts.

while Quincy completed three of nine aerials.

Band Scores Hit
The Biglerville high school band scored a hit in its first appearance in flashy new uniforms. During the half-time intermission the band presented an impressive exhibition.

Next Friday evening the Canners face a severe test when they meet Lower Paxton on the Island field at Harrisburg.

SOUTHERN CAL, IRISH, ARMY, PENN SELECTED

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

New York, Oct. 24 (AP)—Frank Leahy, coach of the Notre Dame football team, has enjoyed the luxury of "fearing Iowa" all the past summer. Tomorrow his players will show just how needless were the mentor's worries.

If the gridiron is dry, the South Bend fracas may turn into an aerial display between Johnny Lujack of Notre Dame and Iowa's Al DeMarco but the Irish's all-around strength should be too much for the Iowans who frittered away a 13-point lead last week and wound up in a 13-13 deadlock with Ohio State.

At least, that is the opinion of this forecaster whose record of 59 correct predictions and 13 misses last week is identical with his season's average of .304.

Other predictions:
Southern California—California: The honeymoon is over for California's new coach, Lynn (Pappy) Waldorf, after five straight pleasant Saturday afternoons. Southern California is talent rich and should storm on from here to the coast title and the Rose Bowl task of trying to stop the Big Nine champion, Southern California.

Michigan—Minnesota: Michigan has averaged 55 1/2 points for every 60 minutes of action this year. The Wolverines won't do that well against their ancient enemy but they will count enough to win Michigan.

Illinois-Purdue: The Illini have had two extremely hard games the past two Saturdays but should have enough left to edge out Purdue although the Boilermakers' Bob De Moss may outshine the Illinoise tosser, Perry Moss, Illinois.

Army-Columbia: A year ago Columbia became the first all-civilian team to defeat Navy's football team and tomorrow makes a first-place pitch to end the Army string of victories. But it will not make the grade. Army's backfield has been revamped to give it an air-arm.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS
WIPE OUT WASTE

It is possibly true that merely the waste in food by America could feed the hungry of Europe! And those in hunger must be fed. There can be no permanent peace in the world with entire nations in a state of hunger, and homeless.

During the First World War the cry was, "Food Will Win The War." Today it is, "Food Will Win The Peace." And the small sacrifice—if it is a sacrifice—is not too much to ask of every human being on this well-fed North American continent! Every one of us should be gladly proud to eat less of those foods that Europe so much needs, and do it largely by wiping out the waste of food that is so evident everywhere.

Even a vegetarian diet for six months would not hurt anyone, but would probably be a revelation to many in improved health! Many of our finest athletes and long-lived people have been those who confined their food to fruits and vegetables. Even three "meatless days" would hurt no one; and as to eggs, one eggless day is entirely reasonable, and on all other days, why not one instead of two or three?

We must not fail the hungry of Europe through a breaking down of the democratic process of sharing from our abundance with those who so tragically need, and doing so gladly and voluntarily. The final dividends will be returned in good will and the gratitude of millions. This should prove to be the greatest peace movement in history!

Millions of us eat too much of the wrong foods. Now is a good time to learn about the right kind of foods that are the best foods. A goodly number of tons of weight, taken from the bodies of those who weigh too much, and converted into tons of weight in foods for those who sorely need, on the other side of the world, may prove to be the turning point toward a peaceful world, and the lighting up of hope all over the world.

Every human being, during this critical time, can contribute a share, and that share may prove to be, not only his security, but the security of all. How simple a service to render—and how immediate it is—right now!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Put Variety Into Your Life."

TRIBUTE

His was a generous hand.
His was a tender heart.
Idle he couldn't stand;
Staying from need apart.

Strength was a gift to use.
Time was a gift to share.
Burdens the proud refuse.
Eager was he to share.

Now that his soul has fled,
Broken the fragile clay,
Brave was the life he led Down to his final day.

Sunday School Lesson

RELIGION IN PRACTICE
By Rev. Howard R. Gold, D.D.
Margaret C. Gold
James 1: 22-27; 2:14-20;
Romans 1:16-17

Memory selection: Faith, if it have not works, is dead—James 2:17.

It is quite appropriate that last week's lesson on faith should be followed by a lesson on religion in practice. Consequently the passages are selected from the Epistle of James which is a decidedly practical book. Listening to discourses on religion is a prevailing custom in the orient and the ancient sages and philosophers gathered many disciples. Very often the listeners merely gave assent, then let the matter drop. Putting beliefs or faith into actual practice was not generally done. Therefore a sharp reminder that faith to be effective must be applied was quite in order.

There is an urgent need of this in our day. As Mr. Colton says, "We will wrangle for religion; write for it; fight for it; die for it; anything but live for it."

Effective Christian Living
James, the brother of Jesus, is no doubt the author of the epistle of that name. He had much to do in organizing the Christians of Jerusalem and other centers. He knew that the growth of the Church depended greatly upon the way its members lived and conducted themselves. "By their fruits ye shall know them," as Jesus said, was the criterion by which the Church succeeded or failed. Unless one is a "doer" of the word as well as a "hearer" of it "this man's religion is vain."

There are in the most men of a careful self examination is required as a beginning of a genuine religious life. A mere look at one's self, like a glance in a mirror, will not do, for the kind of a person one is, can be quickly forgotten. Acknowledging wrong doing and putting away certain things is essential. Self control under all circumstances, a well-bridled tongue, putting away wicked practices—these are some of the things that must be cultivated before a truly effective religious life can be begun. James has little patience with the man who hears and knows the Word of God but does not obey it.

James gives his definition of religious practice in the text which is often quoted: "Pure religion and undefiled before God and the Father is this, to visit the fatherless and widows in the affliction, and to keep himself unspotted from the world."

There it is. Clean hands and a heart that goes out in loving service to the unfortunate. Widows and orphans are an example. The range of applied Christianity is wider than that as is well known, especially at this time of general confusion and varied affliction. Pointedly, James says, if a brother or sister is in need of food and clothing, what profit is there to anyone if you merely say "be ye warmed and filled." Helpful loving service and abiding faith must go hand in hand. In addition to calls for clothing and food from many areas of the world there is also a longing for the fellowship of faith. Bibles and Bibles must be shared with those who are starved in body and spirit.

No Conflict
There is a seeming conflict between what James and Paul say about good deeds and faith. But there is no real conflict. Paul says: "The just shall live by faith" and "By grace are ye saved through faith." James warns: "Faith apart from works, is dead." The truth is that what the one inspired apostle says complements what the other asserts. A pure faith, if it is to live must be followed by loving faithful service to the unfortunate. The two belong together and may be separated only at the peril of both dying out. Longfellow has a couplet about a genuine Christian:

"Not he that repeateth the name,
But he that doeth the will."

Philip Schaff, noted historian and commentator of a former generation declares, "Neither faith nor works can subsist alone."

Results of Good Works
A correct and deeper knowledge of the mind and heart of God is promised to them that keep in balance faith and works: "If any man will do his will, he shall know of the teaching." To learn by doing is a well known formula used in many other spheres than religion and the wise man profits by its observance.

Religion in practice spreads a desire for true faith. Religion should never be lived for its own sake. The direct result of the practice of faith with good works will be: relief of suffering; a firmer faith; another result will be more conversions, to that way of life. If our country as one great unified communion of believers administered aid effectively to the impoverished nations of the world, this practical religion will prevail in the end because of its own inherent power.

The reward of those faithful in pursuing good works comes in the promise of the Master, "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto the least of these, my brethren, ye have done it unto me."

Questions On The S. S. Lesson
1. Which James wrote the Epistle?
2. What besides faith is necessary to true religion?
3. Does James suggest that we tween what James and Paul say about good deeds and faith. But there is no real conflict. Paul says: "The just shall live by faith" and "By grace are ye saved through faith." President Truman Prepares Report To Nation On His Special Session Call

TO BROADCAST TO NATION ON SATURDAY NIGHT

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Washington, Oct. 24 (AP)—President Truman drafted a report to the nation today on his "compelling reasons" for ordering a special session of Congress November 17 to meet a billion-dollar economic emergency in Europe and to check "alarming" inflation at home.

The Chief Executive is scheduled to broadcast the report over all national radio networks at 10 o'clock, E.S.T., tonight.

Officials predicted that it will be a sweeping analysis of the critical economic conditions Mr. Truman sees this nation confronted with both here and abroad.

Record Cabinet Session
It will set forth in detail what the President himself called the "compelling reasons" for summoning the lawmakers back to Washington seven weeks ahead of their regular January convening date. And it will furnish the background against which, upon the actual convening, he will recommend a three-point program of action to the Republican-led Congress.

Mr. Truman made that much clear yesterday when, toward the close of a tensely active day, he read newsmen an announcement that he had just signed a special session proclamation.

Less than an hour before the President had informed a conference of Republican and Democratic Congressional leaders of his decision to take that action. Earlier in the day he had met with his cabinet for two hours and 35 minutes—a record session for his administration.

Early Date A Surprise
To the news conference he said he had given the Congressional leaders "detailed information concerning the alarming and continuing increase in prices in this country and the situation regarding the need for emergency foreign aid." He later referred to this as the "crisis in western Europe."

His designation of November 17 as the date for Congress to meet came as a surprise to the capital, which had thought in terms of a special session in December if there was to be one at all.

But Mr. Truman said the need was urgent for legislative action on (1) high prices, (2) foreign aid and (3) consideration of the Marshall program to help European nations help themselves toward recovery.

Hailed By Europeans
Republican leaders readily agreed with the Chief Executive's right to call the session. But several made clear his recommendations will be rigorously examined. Some suggested the Republicans may come up with their own alternate measures.

Western European diplomats here hailed the President's action as indicating a way out for their hard-pressed countries and a shot-in-the-arm for people discouraged by the slow progress of the Marshall Plan to date.

Information from both Congressional and administration sources indicated the President's three-point program for the special session will follow these broad lines:

Three-Point Program
1. Appropriations probably totaling around $1,000,000,000 for aid to Europe and for relief in the American-occupied areas of Germany, Japan and Korea. Of the total $642,000,000 is tentatively slated to tide over France and Italy until March 31; upwards of $30,000,000 would go to Austria, and the rest would be for the occupied areas. Most of it for Germany.

2. Legislation to check what the President called "inflation, high prices and the high cost of living." On this score Mr. Truman may ask authority to reinstate time payment controls expiring November 1, to ration among industrial users such scarce commodities as grain and steel, to buy export food supplies direct from farmers and to take other measures he considers anti-inflationary. He is reported not to be considering any return to OPA-type rationing and price controls.

3. A speed-up in Congressional consideration of the Marshall Plan proposals for long-range European recovery. This is the program under which America may be asked to contribute from $16,000,000,000 to $20,000,000,000 during the next four years to help the nations of western Europe get back on their feet. Without a special session Congress could not take up the recovery proposal until January.

DUFF BANS ALL HUNTING FROM OCT. 27 UNTIL DROUGHT'S END

Harrisburg, Oct. 24 (AP)—In a sweeping move to reduce the threat of forest fires in Pennsylvania's parched woodlands, Governor James H. Duff banned all hunting throughout the state from 12:01 a. m., Monday, October 27, until rainfall ends the month-long drought.

The governor ordered all state-owned forests and game lands closed at the same time, and suspended fishing within these areas.

"These precautions may not only save our forests and game, but also vast property damage and many human lives," Duff declared yesterday in invoking the authority granted under a 1925 law to carry out the protective measures.

State Forests Closed
The order specifically closes state-owned forest lands, which total more than 2,400,000 acres, to everyone except those who have "necessary business" or state employment in them.

The halting of the hunting season will affect the waterfowl season now underway and will delay the small game season which starts November 1 unless rainfall in the meantime dispels the current danger of fires.

The governor told newsmen earlier this week any possible loss in hunting days at the opening of the season probably would not be made up by adding them at the end of the regular season.

Worst On Record
Duff's proclamation, announcing the fire safeguards said "it is a matter of common knowledge that the very unusual period of dry weather that has prevailed in the commonwealth for the greater part of the past month, has made the forests and game lands exceedingly dry and, therefore, highly inflammable."

The U. S. Weather Bureau in terming the current drought the driest period in local weather records, said average only 14 of an inch of rain has fallen in Pennsylvania since October 1.

The Forests and Waters Department, which has been alerted for several weeks against the forest fire danger, reported that so far, no big fires have broken out although the woods are in an extremely inflammable condition.

Good Record So Far
The department added that only 30,000 acres of forest land have been destroyed by fire this year—one of the lowest records in the history of the commonwealth.

The last time hunting was halted in Pennsylvania was in 1924 when former Governor Gifford Pinchot suspended the small game season cept those who have "necessary business" or state employment in them.

on October 31 after only 13 of an inch of rain fell during a 36-day period.

The state Justice Department said the governor's proclamation not only bans hunting by licensed sportsmen but by farmers as well.

Fishing affected by the ban as far as state forest lands are concerned include bass, pike and muskellonge, the season for which is now underway, and warm water fish which can be caught the year around.

DECLARE DIVIDEND
Philadelphia, Oct. 24 (AP)—The Lehigh Coal and Navigation company has announced a dividend of 50 cents a share payable December 3 to stockholders on record November 3, bringing the total dividend for the year to $1 a share, the same amount paid in 1946.

The number of divorces per 100 U. S. population rose fairly steadily from 1.9 in 1939 to 3.6 in 1945.

28 KILLED IN ELECTRIC TRAIN CRASH TODAY IN LONDON'S FOG

London, Oct. 24 (AP)—Two commuter - packed suburban electric trains, collided in a dense fog this morning, killing at least 28 persons and injuring more than 100 others.

Croydon Mayday hospital, nearest to the scene of the crash in South Croydon, said it had received 26 dead by 10:15 a. m. (GMT).

Chief Ambulance Officer A. L. Hill said all the more than 100 casualties had been carried away in 28 ambulances by 9:15, two hours after the crash.

Rear End Collision

Railway officials said one of the trains was probing its way slowly through the fog toward South Croydon when there suddenly was a blinding flash and a grinding explosion as a following train rammed into the rear of the first.

The last two coaches of the first train were thrown off the rails and the two leading cars of the following train were splintered, smashed and telescoped. There is no locomotive on these commuter trains.

Nearby residents said there was complete silence for a few moments after the crash and then they began to hear screams and cries for help coming through the swirling fog.

Fifth Bad Wreck In Year

Climbing high, spiked railings the residents rushed to the scene and saw passengers fighting their way from the wrecked carriages, kicking out broken windows and calling for help for the injured.

Ambulances and fire engines rushed to the scene but the latter were turned back unneeded.

It was the second serious British railroad accident in two and a half months and the fifth of the year.

Eighteen people were killed and 74 injured in a mainline collision near Doncaster August 9. Five were killed and 30 seriously hurt July 21 when an express overturned near twinworth.

Two accidents in January killed seven and injured 45. Twelve were hurt in a three-way accident January 31, near Coatbridge, Scotland, and seven were killed and 45 injured January 2, when a mail train crashed into the rear of a local at Gidea Park, Essex, during a fog.

College To Get Sum For Memorial Picture

Philadelphia, Oct. 24 (AP)—Pennsylvania State college will receive $1,500 for the painting of a portrait of the mother of the late John Beaver White, Philadelphia investment broker, who died April 25, 1946.

The portrait is to be placed in a recreation building erected at Penn State in 1938 in memory of Mrs. White, who was a sister of James A. Beaver, Pennsylvania governor from 1887 to 1891. The building, known as the Mary Beaver White Recreation hall, is for use of women students in physical education and recreational activities.

TO SELL SHIPYARD

Chester, Pa., Oct. 24 (AP)—The north plant of the Sun Shipbuilding and Drydock company has been offered for sale by the War Assets Administration, says John G. Pew, Jr., vice president of the company. Pew said last night the sale includes only the firm's north yard, consisting of eight shipbuilding ways, two wet basins, a steel fabricating shop and a brick warehouse.

School Pupils Form Own Safety Council

Reading, Pa., Oct. 24 (AP)—Three hundred boys and girls, pupils of two public schools and one parochial school, have established their own safety council to prevent accidents involving bicycle riders.

Police Chief Edward Barr, of Mt. Penn, Pa., said yesterday the council—first of its kind in Pennsylvania—includes children ranking in age from eight to 14 from the Mt. Penn, Penside and St. Catherine parochial schools.

The group has drawn up a set of safety rules, Barr said. These include restrictions against riding on handlebars and riding at night without lights. Young bicyclists also will be cautioned to obey all traffic rules, he said.

Pottsville, Pa., Oct. 24 (AP)—Angeline Kelly, 25, was rushed to the Abington Memorial hospital for the removal of two safety pins, one open, which she swallowed accidentally. The young woman, a cleaning plant employee, was placed under observation after being taken to the hospital yesterday.

Many Tenants Sign On Increased Rents

New York, Oct. 24 (AP)—Leases with rent increases have been signed in the first three months under the new rent control act by about 315,000 tenants in the five-state mid-Atlantic area, says Regional Rent

Administrator Piet H. Hofstra. Hofstra said yesterday the figure represented about 6.3 per cent of the approximately 5,000,000 tenants in New York, Pennsylvania, Delaware, New Jersey and Maryland. At the same time about 8.2 per cent of tenants throughout the nation agreed to rent increases, Hofstra said.
